A typical day spent in camp begins with a 7:30am wake up. Breakfast is served, with setters from each cabin, at 8:00am, and followed by a period of cabin clean up. Campers have many responsibilities around camp as members of our special community, one of which is keeping their personal areas tidy. In addition, during clean up each camper will have a daily job helping with chores around the cabin.

Four days a week each camper begins the day in an activity with his or her individual cabin group. This schedule does not apply for days when the cabin group is on an out-of-camp trip or for special activity days including bunk and tribe days. The second morning period is a Camper Choice period, offerings for which change each day providing a variety of experiences for each camper. The last period before lunch is another cabin activity period.

Instructional swim is a mandatory activity. It is programmed into the camper choice activity periods. Each camper choice period has one swimming group scheduled at the waterfront for lessons of a challenge swim such as to Turtle Rock or across the Lake!

Lunch is at 1:15pm and everyone eats together with music playing, games and announcements. After lunch, there is an hour and ten minute long reading period where campers have the opportunity to write letters, read, and relax. This quiet time is followed by a second camper choice period. Next comes a third and fourth cabin activity, after which there is an all-camp free swim or field activity. Campers are given the option to swim and engage in waterfront games or become involved in games on the grassy commons. Dinner is served, again with the help of setters, at 6:15pm.

In the evening, community activities include campfires, all-play field activities, special activities and creative performances. Campers return to their bunks between 8:15pm and 8:30pm for cabin time, until lights out at 9:00pm.
