Welcome Center on Merritt Parkway (Route 15) in Connecticut

Location of meeting place:

The meeting location for transportation to camp from the greater New York City area is the Connecticut Welcome Center on the Merritt Parkway (Route 15). The Welcome Center is a little parking area, map and tourist information area adjacent to a gas station pull off on the highway. There is a sign for it prior to the pull but keep your eyes open so as not to miss it. It is directly after you cross over the border into Connecticut. Please note that the Merritt Parkway continues into New York and is known as the Hutchinson River Parkway or the “Hutch.”

Please look for the white twelve passenger van(s) that will arrive around 11am. Our staff members will be wearing electric blue Camp Hawkeye Staff shirts with the word “Staff” in bold letters on the back.

What to do if you get lost:

- First, you should plan ahead for traffic and construction. Leave at least a half an hour before you think you need to.
- Please remember that the Merritt Parkway in Connecticut is a road on which trucks are forbidden to travel. If your family owns a business that uses trucks please do not use it for transport to and from the meeting place on the Merritt. The police are not shy about giving $150.00 and greater tickets to transgressors.
- If you do get lost please call the office at 603-253-3088. Andrea will be there to assist you in getting to the meeting point.
